THE COLYUM.

Making of good things we not overlook the fact that now is a baseball team reminding one the days by when it was the pride of team in western Kentucky at a game with Marion. The people of Marion should encourage the boys by their presence at the games.

Colonel Lee Vick is installing modern crossing over the ditch at the post office. Hope he has material enough left over to get a little pile of it by the old "hasbeen" down by the railroad at Belleville street. It would be a good idea to have a little pile of material there so that strangers passing through Marion would at least think that a new bridge was under feed, cow feed at Wheelers.

Some that Mrs. Carl Moreland rapidly morning for Social center where they will see the home.

These destructive pests can do a lot of damage to your valuable tobacco in a very short time. In the old days you pulled them off of the plant by hand. This was a tiresome disagreeable task—and is not necessary any more.

THE MODERN WAY

to get rid of these pests is to use arsenate of lead or Paris green. This method is inexpensive, effective and easy. Does not harm your tobacco plants and is an entirely satisfactory method.
